

LAB PRACTICE PROGRAMS ON CSS

CSS styling - color

Sean and Roger have joined the Web Makers company as interns. As they are beginners in the field, they were guided to get hands-on exposure about HTML and CSS concepts. The major client of their company was the Pink frag Event Organizer Company. The Company provides the leading event management services for birthday, wedding, corporate events and business conference.

After their internship period, Sean and Reon's first task was to create a sample webpage for Pink frag Organizer Company. They initially used the basic black font-color for the home page which was not much appealing. Sean and Roger wants to find out the suitable font colors for the webpage but they are not so confident of implementing it.

Let us explain them the usage of color attribute by creating a webpage using color attribute in CSS.

Hints : color attribute

It is used to change the color of the any element in which the styling is used.

Syntax :

<h1 style="color:blue;">This is a Blue Heading</h1>

CSS in-line styling - div element

Pink Frag Event Organizer is a company grown from Strength to Strength, entirely committed to a flexible, "hands on approach" – paying the closest attention to customer's needs and always providing a professional service in managing every sorts of events.

The company's highly creative team of event organizers always excel in creating unique brand identity and out-of-the-box events that speaks on its own. They assigned the task of creating a webpage for their upcoming extravaganza "Best Talents of 2017", an annual award ceremony to Vanton web designing company. But the creative team was not much satisfied with the stylings used in the page designed by Vanton.

The designing company needs your help to make the web page look more attractive. Hence create a web page with internal styling using div element.

Hints : internal styling

An inline style may be used to apply a unique style for a single element.

CSS - external styling by id

Webnotch Technologies is an emerging web application development company. Established by a group of highly knowledgeable software enthusiasts with great vision, the company has indispensable knowledge in web design development, Info-graphics, etc.,

Mahepal, the founder of Web notch Technologies signed up a deal with Pink Frag Event Organizer for creating a webpage for establishing their deemed services. The company's web designer Kissan is innovative in making colorful blogs and was assigned this task for Pink Frag Client. The major constraint of the task is that, the blog should be colorful with contents and innovative with informations. So create a webpage by using the external styling method using id element by accomplishing the task assigned to Kissan.

Hints :

#id selector

The id selector uses the id attribute of an HTML element to select a specific element.

The id of an element should be unique within a page, so the id selector is used to select one unique element

Syntax :

```
external styling
#id {
css declarations;

CSS - style by class

Bamboo Web Designers has evolved itself to be listed in top web designing companies around the City. They believe that designing innovation takes peers from many disciplines.

Recently the company's new designing team headed by Mukund has created a website for the Pink Frag Event Organizer and mailed the softcopy of the project to the client. Edwin, the Project Head at Pink Frag felt the home page of the website could look more colorful and attractive as it was very formal with common fonts.

Hence Mukund has requested your help to complete the task faster as much as possible. Create a webpage using class selector which will provide a colorful experience for the users.

CSS - font style

Sean and Roger have joined the Web Makers company as interns. As they are beginners in the field, they were guided to get hands-on exposure about HTML and CSS concepts. The major client of their company was the Pink frag Event Organizer Company. The Company provides the leading event management services for birthday, wedding, corporate events and business conference.

After their internship period, Sean and Reon's first task was to create a sample webpage for Pink frag Organizer Company. The sample web page was almost ready but Sean felt he could change the font-style of the contents in the webpage. But he didn't have any idea of implementing it.

Let us explain them the usage of font-family attribute by creating a webpage using arial font style in CSS.

Hints :

font-family

It is used in changing the font style of any element in the webpage.

Syntax :

```
<style> h1 {
  property:value;
}
</style>

CSS - text transform

In the process of creating the official website for the famous event managing brand "Pink Frag Event Organizer", Haveena has collected the textual content for the site. Since the content was too large, it consumed lot of time for her to type the content in desired text-styles like lowercase, uppercase, capitalize, etc., In order to save time she decided to re-model her text into the HTML code, but was unable to convert a part of text to Uppercase or to be capitalized.

Then, the usage of text-transform property struck out in her mind. The text-transform property controls the capitalization of text. As she is busy in collecting contents, she has assigned you the task of converting the rough content into the webpage using text-transform property in CSS.

Hints :

text-transform property :

The text-transform property in CSS controls text case and capitalization.

lowercase - makes all of the letters in the selected text lowercase.

uppercase - makes all of the letters in the selected text uppercase.

capitalize - capitalizes the first letter of each word in the selected text.

none - leaves the text's case and capitalization exactly as it was entered.

inherit - gives the text the case and capitalization of its parent.

text-transform property

Syntax :

text-transform: none|capitalize|uppercase|lowercase|initial|inherit;

Content :

CSS Caret-Color Property

Sumi is pursuing her third year of Engineering. After choosing her mini project in the subject CSS, Sumi decided to present the usage of some rarely used properties in CSS. She was convinced with the caret-color property which is not so familiar but a useful one.

The caret-color property specifies the color of the cursor (i.e, caret) in inputs, text areas, or any element that is editable. On doing her project, she got stuck as she faced certain syntactical errors. Let us help her in finishing the project by creating the sample webpage using the caret-color properties.

Hints:

Caret-Color Property

The caret-color CSS property sets the color of the insertion caret i.e, the visible indicator of the point at which the next character typed by the user will be inserted within an element such as `<input>` or one with the contenteditable attribute set. The caret is typically a thin vertical line that flashes to help make it more noticeable. By default, it is black, but its color can be altered with this property.

Syntax:

`caret-color: auto | color;`

Constraints :

Tag 'input' must be present for minimum of 5 times in the html page.

First 'input' tag caret-color and color should be '#f44336' and value should be 'Red Color'.

Second 'input' tag caret-color and color should be '#76c31d' and value should be 'Green Color'.

Third 'input' tag caret-color and color should be '#9c27b0' and value should be 'Violet Color'.

Fourth 'input' tag caret-color and color should be '#ff9800' and value should be 'Orange Color'.

Fifth 'input' tag caret-color and color should be '#9e96d0' and value should be 'Blue Color'.

Refer screen shots for html specifications.

Note :

Content of the page should be present as shown in the screenshot.

Kindly refer the content which is given as a part of description.

CSS text-overflow

"Pink Frag Event Organizers" is providing excellent service in managing special events such as celebrity weddings, social gathering, etc., The creative team has planned to publish a digital poster about Weddings in their website and assigned Heidi to create the same.

On reviewing the poster, the head of the creative team felt a clumsy content and suggested him to provide the required data alone and to specify how the overflown content that is not displayed should be indicated to the user. Since Heidi is engaged with management works, he has assigned you the task of remodeling the webpage by using text-overflow property in CSS.

Hints:

text-overflow Property

The text-overflow property in CSS deals with situations where text is clipped when it overflows the element's box.

It can be clipped (i.e. cut off, hidden), display an ellipsis ('...'), Unicode Range Value U+2026) or display an author-defined string (no current browser support for author-defined strings).

ellipsis - Renders an ellipsis ("...") to represent clipped text.

Syntax :

text-overflow: clip | ellipsis | string | initial|inherit;

CSS - background repeat

At Web notch Technologies, the company takes pride in the honest approach to doing business. Accomplishing big things takes a lot of trust from our clients, partners and staffs, and we work hard to always be straightforward and clear in everything we do.

Kissan, the Head of the Development team has chose you as his team member for finishing the project deal signed up for Pink Frag Event Organizer. Your part in the project is to create a web page using the background repeat property in CSS. Create a page that uses the given attribute in CSS.

Hints :

background-repeat

The background-repeat property sets if/how a background image will be repeated. By default, a background-image is placed at the top-left corner of an element, and repeated both vertically and horizontally.

no repeat On using this property, the repetitions across horizontal and vertical axis would be avoided. Hence, the background-image will not be repeated. The image will only be shown once.

Syntax :

```
background-repeat: repeat|repeat-x|repeat-y|no-repeat|initial|inherit;

CSS - background repeat-x

Being in the family of Webnotch Technologies, Sandra is very much interested in contributing her efforts for the betterment of the company. She has been waiting for the right time for showcasing her talent in web designing. Sandra has been assigned the task of redoing the web page created for their major client Pink Frag Event Organizer. Her superior gave her a prototype for the blog and the contents to be displayed in it.

The blog contained the facts about the company and was decorated with a background image relating to the nature of the company's services. She thought of bringing something innovative about the site. She surfed various websites about the alignment of the background image in different ways and found out the usage of background repeat-x property in CSS as it will fill the image only in the horizontal axis.

She has requested you to help her by finding out the implementations of this property. Hence create a web page using the background repeat-x property in CSS.

Hints :

background-repeat

The background-repeat property sets how a background image will be repeated. By default, a background-image is repeated both vertically and horizontally.

repeat-x

The background image is repeated only horizontally

Syntax :

```
background-repeat: repeat|repeat-x|repeat-y|no-repeat|initial|inherit;

CSS styling - background image

The incomparable efforts and dedication of the team members at Pink Frag Event Organization has made it top the list of emerging web designing companies in the city. They perform a quick analysis of your needs and in conjunction with their innovative idea, plan out to give a blueprint using audio - visual aids and multimedia support as images or videos.

In order to expand the company's man power further, the organization has announced a recruitment fair in which all the growing web developers around the city can participate. The developers who have registered at the fair should develop a website for the company. The website should be a colorful blog and should be unique from other sites. Since you have also registered, you have to create a web page about the company's services for the people using the background-image attribute in CSS.

Hints :
background-image

It is used to set an image as the background for the web page. By default, a background-image is placed at the top-left corner of an element, and repeated both vertically and horizontally.

The background of an element is the total size of the element, including padding and border (but not the margin).

Syntax :

```
background-image: url|none|initial|inherit;

Content :

Content of the web page is given in the template.

background-image - 'Nature.jpg'

Constraints :

background-image property should be used for body tag of the web page.

image is given in the template.

Use internal style for the body tag

Note :

Web page should be displayed as shown in the screenshot.
